

into battle without him—a thing of which, as we infer from his own letter, lamenting the effusion of blood, he was very much surprised to hear. Why he took the pains to revolt against the actual government, and collect an army of horse, foot, and artillery, only to depreciate the effusion of blood we cannot pretend to say.

“He ought to have considered that before he collected an army, which he led about the marshes in marches and counter-marches, and then allowed to surrender at discretion, only to show his aversion to deciding the fate of ‘charter’ and ‘constitution’ by bayonet and cannon-ball. For our part, we are glad to see the liberal warfare at an end, as we anticipated, with so little suffering and loss of humanity. This comes from leaving the fighting part of the quarrel to the Portuguese themselves while Lord Palmerston kept his marines on board, and British ‘intervention’ only looked on at a distance at this ‘children’s play’ of war, from behind its wooden walls.”

NEW-BANK IN FRANCE.—A considerable sensation has been excited in France, by the establishment of a joint stock bank, the first in the kingdom properly so to be called, at the head of which and the author of the project is the well known banker and former Minister of State, M. Lafitte.

The capital is fixed at fifty-five millions of francs, with power to increase to two hundred and fifty millions. Lafitte himself contributes seven and a half millions. The Bank Lafitte will not issue bank notes in the strict meaning of the term, as understood here of the Bank of the Bank of France, but the intention is to issue bank bills for 25 francs (11) and upwards payable at Paris or in the departments at a fixed date, or at one or more days’ sight, which, in fact, will correspond with the class of paper known here as bank post bills. The capital of 55,000,000 francs is divided into 10,000 shares of 5,000 francs each, and 5,000 shares of 1,000 francs. Upon the first class shares the shareholders pay down one-fifth only, but for the remainder give security for payment in case of need; the subscribers for 1,000 franc shares pay the whole down at once. Thus, although the capital is nominally 55,000,000 francs, the effective paid-up capital consists, in fact, of no more than 15,000,000 francs, or 600,000l. M. Lafitte has published a circular announcing that the subscriptions for shares in his new “Bank of Commerce and Industry,” already exceed the amount required for its establishment, and calling a meeting of the stockholders on the 2d of October.

CAMDEN COURIER.

CAMDEN, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1837.

From late accounts respecting the packet ship Susquehanna, there is no doubt of her safety.

We have been unable to procure for this week’s paper a detailed statement of each day’s race, and consequently, are compelled to defer it for our next.

Our Town Rites, or more properly RITERS, should in their nocturnal avocation in future act with a little more discretion than they did on the night of the Race Ball, in piling up boxes, &c. in the middle of the streets, to the great risk of both life and property. What may be fun for some may be noisy to others—hence the necessity of a THOU on the subject.

An election for Officers of the Kershaw Rifle Company will take place this day at 12 o’clock M. at the Market House, from which they will march to the Magazine spring, where a Barbecue will be in waiting. Those wishing to become members are requested to attend.

TWENTY TONS OF SPECIE have been received at Philadelphia, supposed to be for the U. S. Bank and other Banks of Pennsylvania.

A large portion of the Banks of the principal commercial cities, have agreed to convene in the city of New York on the 27th inst. for the purpose of fixing upon a day for the resumption of specie payments.

The Boston Marine Insurance Offices have lost by the late disasters at sea the sum of 188,500 dollars.

The new steam packet Neptune which is now fitting out at New York to ply between that city and Charleston, has been very properly supplied with life preserving mattresses and boats, which it is stated will save 290 persons—besides, a large number of life preservers.

The steamer Monmoth on her way from New Orleans to Arkansas with 611 emigrating Creeks, was run into by the ship Tremont while in tow of the steamer Warren on the evening of the 31st ult., and immediately sunk, causing the destruction of about 300 of the poor Indians. All the whites on board were saved, except the bar-keeper and one of the firemen.

The Texas Congress has declared that the Law granting 640 acres of Land to settlers, shall continue in force six months longer, from the first of the present month, and after that time, 320 to those who settle there within six months.

A WOLF IN SHEEP’S CLOTHING.
The following very politic letter is from the pen of the apostate Wolf, who, if we recollect right, has not long since returned from an evangelizing excursion among his Israelitish brethren on the other side of the water, among whom we were given to understand he performed miracles.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21, 1837.
To my American friends in general:
“Having been called upon, by several gentlemen in this country, to advance the cause of the Colonization Society, and by others of the Anti-slavery Society, I feel it to be my duty, for the satisfaction of all parties, to declare, that whilst I wish to promote the salvation of all mankind, I still cannot take a part in any of the above named societies, or in any others, which divide the American public in a political view, as it would be in me, as a stranger and foreigner, most improper to meddle with political questions; and especially, being now ordained a clergyman of the Episcopal Church, my simple duty is to preach the Gospel of Christ to abolitionists and anti-abolitionists, to colonizationists and anti-colonizationists; and, in order to induce both parties to attend to my preaching, the wisest step I can take, is, not to meddle with those points of dispute.

JOSEPH WOLFF, Missionary.

FURTHER FROM FLORIDA.

The steam boat James Adams, Capt. Chase, arrived at this port last evening from Clarksville, (Va.) Capt. Chase informs us that an express arrived at Clarksville on the 3d inst. bringing intelligence that Sam Jones, the Indian chief, was on the West side of the St. John’s River, with 600 warriors, but asserted that he would not come in until the last moment. Gen. Hernandez had captured 30 more Indians—these are probably the 29 mentioned in the St. Augustine paper.

It is stated to be the intention of Gen. Jessup, to send the Indian chiefs now at St. Augustine, to Charleston, and have them placed in Fort Moultrie for safe keeping.

INDIAN MEDIATION.—We learn that the influential Cherokee Chief JOHN ROSS, has offered to mediate between the Government and the Seminoles; and a deputation is to proceed to Florida; charged with a talk, from him, and with authority to convey, unharmed, any of the Seminoles who may desire to visit the City of Washington for the purpose of concluding a treaty.

It is to be hoped that the Florida Chiefs will give ear to the suggestions of the Cherokee, and save their tribe from destruction—for such must inevitably be their fate, if they persist in resisting the American arms.

STRANGE MORTALITY AMONG POULTRY.—A few days since we were witnesses to a strange mortality among the poultry of one of our neighbors of “Edisto Island. Several geese, and fowls, and a large number of ducks, in a very fat and apparently healthy state, were suddenly seized with a disease which carried them off in a few hours. Had the disease been attended with severe purgings of the patients, we would have been inclined to denominate it Asiatic Cholera; but this was not the case. On the contrary, the bowels of the patients seemed constipated, and they died off with an apparent apoplexy. Some of them were bled; and castor oil given them, with great success.

The mortality to which we have alluded, was not confined to the one plantation, but was experienced on many in the same vicinity. In some instances, every fowl, duck, goose and turkey on the plantation died; and in one instance, we beheld several very fine and valuable dogs, which had eaten of the diseased poultry, die off in a few hours afterwards. Buzzards, also, which devoured them were seized with the disease, and in a few moments afterwards, were taken with a severe vomiting, and died.

The inhabitants of the island have never enjoyed better health! What can this singular mortality among their poultry arise from? Can any of our friends or correspondents inform us.—Agriculturalist.

Journal Office, Providence,
Sunday morning, Oct. 29.

The sch’r Meridan, Capt. Baxter, from James River, at this port, reports that on Saturday, 21st inst. about four o’clock, 50 miles E. by S. of Cape Henlopen, saw a vessel on fire, enveloped in smoke, a fore top-sail rickish looking sch’r. near her; they were about 7 or 8 miles to windward (westward) of him. At the same time, saw a large ship to leeward of the meridan, standing for the Delaware. This information was communicated by Capt B. before any mention was made of the reported capture of the Susquehanna, nor did he hear of it until informed by the person to whom the above intelligence was first communicated.

From the Providence Journal of Monday.
Capt. Baxter, of the sch’r. William, arrived here on Saturday, from Norfolk, states that on Saturday, the 21st inst. (the day on which the ship is stated to have been captured) he saw a vessel on fire, about 50 miles from Cape Henlopen, and that a topsail schooner was about her, as he supposed, rendering assistance.—the captain heard nothing about the Susquehanna, until he arrived here. Many with whom he has conversed, seem to think it certain that the vessel seen on fire, must be the ship Susquehanna, and that the pirates, after taking out of her the money and other valuables, set her on fire. But to us this does not appear probable; it seems to us as altogether unaccountable that the pirate vessel would continue about the ship after she was on fire.

NOTICE.—I have placed the notes and accounts due to the Estate Reuben Tucker, Jane and Darcas Blair, and myself, in the hands of John M.
